

Recognition of Prior Learning and Current Competence

RPL and RCC

INFORMATION

Recognition of Prior Learning and Current Competence (RPL and RCC)

Why waste time and money learning something you already know?

- Have you been doing your job for years but don't have a formal qualification?
- Is not having a formal qualification for what you do holding you back?
- Would a qualification in what you do, look good on your resume?

If the answer to any of these questions is yes, then you should consider Recognition of Prior Learning and Current Competence (RPL and RCC).

What is RPL and RCC?

RPL and RCC are simple processes that provide for the recognition of the skills and knowledge that you have learned throughout your life, either on the job, at home, through volunteer work, or any way at all. Where you learned it isn't important. All that is, is that you can do it now, and can show us you can. You may qualify for a nationally accredited Certificate, Diploma or Statement of Attainment through the RPL/RCC process.

What can I get RPL for?

At WLI you can get recognition for 35 qualifications in the fields of Automotive Manufacturing, Business, Business Administration, Occupational Health and Safety, Frontline Management, Food Processing, Food Safety Auditing, Engineering Production Systems, Process Manufacturing, Competitive Manufacturing, Polymer Processing, Training and Assessment and Transport and Logistics.

What's involved?

Just follow the six easy steps below and in no time, and for a fraction of the cost of doing the course, you'll turn your work and life experience into a valuable qualification.

The six easy steps to the WLI process

What does it cost?

The RPL/RCC process costs only a fraction of what a course would cost. Although the cost will vary depending on the qualification that you are seeking recognition for, no RPL/RCC process will cost you more than $900.00.

What should I do if I want to know more?

Call us, email or visit our website for more information regarding RPL/RCC or any of our training and consultancy services.

The WLI Commitment to Quality

We are a quality assured company. Our quality assurance accreditation covers systems for the design, development and implementation, on and off-site, of vocational education and training products and services that facilitate workplace learning and change and may lead to recognised credentials. This certification also includes commissions for research relating to work, adult education and vocational training.

We have been awarded "Highly Recommended" status in the Australian Achiever Awards for excellence in customer service again—proving we deliver on the promise of customer care.

We are a Registered Training Organisation authorised to offer training and assessment services which may lead to the issue of nationally recognised Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) qualifications or statements of attainment. We also comply with the quality requirements of the NRT standards.
